

Ching Tien Foundation for Women

Virtual Learning Platform Overview

The Ching Tien Foundation for Women develops female leaders from Asia by providing promising young women with scholarship opportunities to pursue academic and leadership training in a global setting. Our programs are designed to enable aspiring social impact leaders to develop the mindset, confidence and leadership skills to become changemakers for tomorrow.

Named after Ching Tien, a globally recognized champion for gender equality and women's empowerment, the Ching Tien Foundation builds on the legacy of Educating Girl of Rural China (EGRC). Founded by Ching Tien, EGRC was a grassroots Canadian charity that operated in rural Western China for 18 years. From 2005 to 2023, EGRC provided over 2,000 young rural Chinese women with financial sponsorship and emotional support to complete their high school and university education, achieving a graduation rate of over 99%.

The purpose of the Ching Tien Foundation Virtual Learning Platform is to raise awareness for the Foundation's work and extend personal development opportunities to Asian young women aged 16 to 28, who are motivated to step out of their comfort zone, think beyond themselves, and dare to lead.

The Virtual Learning Platform provides regular monthly and bi-weekly programs focused on gender equality, women's empowerment, leadership and world events. Program formats include speaker series, workshops, panel discussions and training programs. All programs are led by the Founder, the Foundation's scholars and alumni, and other aspiring leaders from around the world. Participation is free of charge.

Young women who want to apply for the Ching Tien Foundation's global study programs (Master's Program and Undergraduate Language and Leadership Program) are required to participate in a minimum of six months of the Virtual Learning Platform activities in advance of submitting their application.
